PROBABLE CAUSE

7. On March 24, 2023, PRPB Agents assigned to the Aibonito Narcotic Drug Division ("Agents") received a confidential telephone call. Through that call they were informed, among other things, that a tall, skinny, "trigueño-skinned" individual with a tattoo on his chest, known as "Alexander", was in possession of controlled substances and firearms at Carr. 14 Km 24, Los Llanos ward in Coamo, PR ("the target residence"). Through the call, the agents were also informed that the aforementioned individual sold controlled substances and firearms from that address.
8. On March 29, 2023, the Agents made an Operation Plan to surveil the target residence. The purpose of the Operation Plan was to identify, among other things, AKA Alexander, to confirm if there were controlled substances and firearms at the target residence and to eventually request a search warrant.

9. While on surveillance, the Agents observed an individual, which matched the confidential description, come out of the target residence without a shirt on and with a tattoo on his chest. This individual was later identified as José Alexander GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO.
10. The Agents continued their surveillance and observed a gray Suzuki SK-4 arrive near the target residence. The driver of the Suzuki, later identified as Víctor Manuel RUIZ-BARBES, parked near the target residence and a nearby bridge. RUIZ-BARBES got out of the Suzuki, opened the trunk of the car, took a pink plastic storage box out of the trunk, and placed it down on the ground. Immediately after, RUIZ-BARBES took a black rifle out of the trunk and put it inside the pink plastic storage box. RUIZ-BARBES then took the pink box and hid it under the bridge in a bushy area. RUIZ-BARBES then walked to the front of the target house.
11. Simultaneously, the Agents observed GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO take out a purple bookbag from near an abandoned car that was parked near the target residence. GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO opened the bookbag and took out a large plastic bag with a leafy substance, which seemed like marihuana to the Agents. GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO proceeded to put the plastic bag back inside the bookbag, walk to the back of an abandoned house adjacent to the target house and hide the bookbag under a palm tree and underneath a metal plate. GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO walked back to the front of the target residence.
12. The Agents called for backup so they could arrest GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO and RUIZ-BARBES.
13. After backup arrived, the Agents arrested GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO and RUIZ-BARBES. The Agents read them their rights and conducted a pat down of both arrestees.
14. At the time, GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO was holding in his hand a cigarette containing a leafy substance which later tested positive for marihuana. In his pockets he had a red iPhone 12 and a plastic bag containing a substance that also tested positive for marihuana.

15. The Agents seized the bookbag GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO had placed under a metal plate.

Inside the bag, there were five large plastic bags with a green leafy substance which later tested positive for marihuana.

16. In his pant pockets RUIZ-BARBES had a plastic bag with a green leafy substance which tested positive for marihuana.

17. From the pink plastic storage box, the Agents seized:

- One (1) black rifle AK-47 Draco 7.62 caliber bearing serial number 9771-11
- One (1) black and green rifle of unknown caliber, unknown manufacturer, and unknown serial number
- One (1) black and green rifle of unknown caliber, unknown manufacturer, unknown serial number, and no trigger
- One (1) Glock pistol, black in color, model 35, 40 caliber, with serial number RAD770
- One (1) black revolver Ruger with serial number 540-66359
- Seventy-three (73) rounds of 7.62 caliber ammunition
- Forty-eight (48) rounds of .38 caliber ammunition
- Multiple 9mm magazines
- Multiple .40 caliber magazines
- Multiples rifle magazines.

- One (1) black bullet proof vest
- One (1) black Roni pistol carbine

18. ATF Agents performed a dry test of all the firearms, except the rifle with no trigger and the revolver. The dry test revealed that the following firearms were capable of firing automatically as machineguns:

- The black rifle AK-47 Draco 7.62 caliber with serial number 9771-11;
- The black and green rifle of unknown caliber, unknown manufacturer, and unknown serial number
- The black Glock pistol, model 35, .40 caliber with serial number RAD770

19. The black Glock pistol, model 35, .40 caliber, with serial number RAD770 had a machinegun modification on the backplate which is readily visible to anyone holding the firearm, as shown in the picture below.

20. ATF Agents later interviewed GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO. GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO confessed he possessed the purple bookbag and that he moved it from near the abandoned car to the back of the abandoned house adjacent to the target house. GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO further admitted he placed the purple bookbag under a metal plate.

21. GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO gave the ATF Agents consent to search his iPhone 12. During the search, which was conducted in the presence of GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO, ATF Agents viewed, among other things, several videos. GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO confessed that it was him in some videos shooting a machinegun towards a mountain. In one of the videos, ATF Agents also identified RUIZ-BARBES shooting a rifle that looks identical to one of the rifles seized by the Agents from the aforementioned pink plastic storage box.

22. Based on my training, experience and facts concerning this investigation, I believe that sufficient probable cause exists to show that there is material evidence that RUIZ-BARBES committed a violation of United States federal laws, to wit: Title 18, United States Code, Section 922(o). Possession of a machinegun.
23. GONZÁLEZ-SANTIAGO committed a violation of United States federal laws, to wit: Title 21, United States Code, Section 841(a)(1) Possession with intent to Distribute Controlled Substances.

I hereby declare, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.
